Festivities to include Live Beatles Music, English Fare, Yellow Submarine Movie Showing and Silent Auction

Paso Robles, CA—The boys from Liverpool are back as Vina Robles Winery hosts the “Beatlemania Festival” on Friday, August 28 starting at 7 p.m. at the winery’s hospitality center in Paso Robles.

This event is a benefit for Big Brothers Big Sisters and the Paso Robles Boys and Girls Club, and will be hosted by Seth Blackburn of Q104.5 FM. The cost is $25 per person. Guests are encouraged to wear their finest 1960s-style attire.

The festivities will include live Beatles classics performed by Unfinished Business on the winery concert lawn. English-style fish ‘n’ chips, ales and Vina Robles wines will be available for purchase, and the Beatles’ Yellow Submarine movie will be shown on a large screen inside the Vina Robles Signature Room. The room will also feature a silent auction of magnums from 20 Paso Robles wineries.

“This is a one-of-a-kind local musical event for a good cause,” said Marc Laderriere, the winery’s director of sales and marketing. “We encourage people to come out and dance with us.”
